† Co-pay and travel assistance foundations provide assistance regardless of the choice of treatment, and decisions are based on patient financial need and according to criteria established by the individual foundations. Dendreon On Call can assist patients by referring them to these independent organizations. Dendreon cannot guarantee that patients will be eligible for or receive assistance after referral. Dendreon does not have control or managerial influence over these independent organizations.

* Independent co-pay assistance foundations have their own rules for eligibility. Dendreon cannot guarantee a foundation will help a patient. Dendreon On Call can refer patients to a foundation that supports their disease state. This information is provided as a resource. Dendreon does not endorse any particular foundation. The foundations on this list are not the only ones that might be able to help.

No insurance or are rendered uninsured

PROVENGE may be provided free of cost to uninsured patients and those eligible patients who have been deemed uninsured because their insurance will not cover PROVENGE. Please contact your Field Reimbursement Manager for specific details.

Tell your doctor about any medicines you take, including prescription and nonprescription drugs, vitamins, or dietary supplements.

The most common side effects of PROVENGE include chills, fatigue, fever, back pain, nausea, joint ache, and headache. These are not all the possible side effects of PROVENGE treatment.

PROVENGE is made from your own immune cells, which are collected during a process called leukapheresis. The cells are processed, returned, and then infused back into the patient through an IV (intravenous) infusion about 3 days later. This process is completed in 3 cycles, about 2 weeks apart. Each infusion takes approximately 1 hour and requires 30 minutes of post-infusion monitoring.

PROVENGE infusion can cause serious reactions. Tell your doctor right away if you:

- Have signs of a heart attack or lung problems, such as trouble breathing, chest pains, racing or irregular heartbeats, high or low blood pressure, dizziness, fainting, nausea, or vomiting
- Have signs of a stroke, such as numbness or weakness on one side of the body, decreased vision in one eye, or difficulty speaking
- Develop symptoms of thrombosis which may include: pain and/or swelling of an arm or leg with warmth over the affected area, discoloration of an arm or leg, shortness of breath, chest pain that worsens on deep breathing
- Have signs of infection such as a fever over 100°F, redness or pain at the infusion or collection sites

Tell your doctor about any side effect(s) that concerns you or does not go away. For more information, talk with your doctor.

You are encouraged to report negative side effects of prescription drugs to the FDA. Visit www.fda.gov/medwatch or call 1-800-FDA-1088.

Please see additional Important Safety Information on the front cover and accompanying full Prescribing Information.
